To Whom It May Concern,

Innovative Management Solutions (IMS) has been supporting Virgin Galactic with scheduling technical support as well as providing professional, experienced schedulers to our team for the last 3.5 years. Their understanding of Project Management practices is excellent and their commitment to our vision has been nothing less than outstanding.

Two years after IMS assisted in the successful implementation of P6, our company made some shifts in its personnel and strategy, and with it, a decision to move to Microsoft Project. Once again, without hesitation, IMS was available and able to support. They were able to successfully assist our team in transitioning and have provided continuous guidance whenever needed. Whether it's technical support or additional resources for our projects, IMS has risen to the challenge.

IMS is a professional organization and has some of the best consultants I've worked with in my career. In their work with us they demonstrated outstanding knowledge of project management and scheduling methodologies, and I strongly recommend them for all of your project scheduling needs.
